Vanguard Law Group LLP announces the launch of its unique V-Close service in Ontario

Mississauga, Ontario – Monday July 4, 2010 - Vanguard Law Group LLP is today extremely pleased to announce the official launch of its unique V-Close service in the Province of Ontario. By choosing V-Close, Vanguard's clients can have all relevant paperwork on a purchase and/or sale transaction signed in the comfort of their own home or any other location convenient to them, via leading edge video conferencing and document collaboration technology.

The V-Close service is guided by a Vanguard commissioned signing representative. The signing representative attends at the client's chosen location, fully equipped with a video camera enabled laptop computer. The signing representative and the Vanguard lawyer, when ready, establish a highly secure data link via a 3G wireless connection and industry standard communication software.

Once connected the client and lawyer are able to view each other on screen with full audio capabilities. Through the software, the lawyer can present and explain the entire signing package to the client, who sees every document as it is being presented. After the explanation of each document, the purchaser/seller is directed by the lawyer to sign, where applicable, the physical versions of the documentation. The signing representative is present throughout and commissions and witnesses the physical documents as necessary.

"Vanguard now offers a level of convenience to its clients that is simply unmatched by any other real estate law firm in the country" said Sanjay Soni, Managing Partner of Vanguard. "Instead of our clients coming to the lawyer's office to sign, we can now bring the lawyer to them virtually anywhere in Ontario. In today's busy world, a service like this offers tremendous value to most people".

Vanguard's V-Close service will be available to all clients at no extra cost.
